Firm Résumé

June 2006

The law firm of Heins Mills & Olson, P.L.C., located in Minneapolis, Minnesota, has a national practice in the field of complex litigation. The principal part of the firm's work is representing plaintiffs and plaintiff classes in a variety of class actions, primarily in the areas of securities fraud, antitrust violations, and deceptive trade practices and consumer fraud. The members of the firm collectively have many decades of experience in complex litigation and have successfully prosecuted more than 100 class actions.

Heins Mills & Olson frequently serves as lead counsel for plaintiffs and plaintiff classes. The firm's institutional investor clients have included numerous state pension funds, managing billions of dollars in assets, including the Utah State Retirement Board, Teachers' Retirement System of Alabama, Employees' Retirement System of Alabama, Judicial Retirement Fund of Alabama, Public Employees' Retirement Association of Colorado, as well as certain Taft-Hartley health, welfare and pension funds. In securities litigation, the firm is counsel for the Minnesota State Board of Investment (MSBI), lead plaintiff in In re AOL Time Warner, Inc. Securities Litigation (S.D.N.Y.). As lead counsel in the case, the firm recently achieved a $2.65 billion settlement on behalf of purchasers of securities of America Online and media-giant Time Warner. The settlement is one of the five largest securities fraud class settlements in history and the second-largest ever paid by a securities issuer. The court has granted preliminarily approval of the settlement and will consider final approval early next year. The firm is also lead counsel in In re Broadcom Corp. Securities Litigation (C.D. Cal.), a securities fraud case brought on behalf of a class of Broadcom shareholders. The firm reached a $150 million settlement, which was recently approved by the court. This settlement also ranks as one of the 25 largest in history. The firm also served as lead counsel for the class of securities investors in In re Mercury Finance Company Securities Litigation (N.D. Ill.). After negotiating a settlement with Mercury's auditing firm for $40.5 million, one of the largest recoveries ever obtained from an accounting firm for violations of the securities laws, the firm obtained additional recoveries of over $15 million from Mercury's officers and directors, and Mercury itself, even though the company was in bankruptcy. The firm also represents several other public pension funds in class and individual securities fraud cases.

In antitrust litigation, Heins Mills & Olson is one of two lead counsel firms representing a class of purchasers of food additives in In re Monosodium Glutamate Antitrust Litigation (D. Minn.). The firm has negotiated settlements, totaling $123.4 million, with most of the defendants. The firm served as lead trial counsel representing travel agents against major domestic airlines in In re Travel Agency Commission Antitrust Litigation (D. Minn.), which resulted in eve-of-trial settlements totaling $86 million. The firm also was co-lead counsel for classes of consumers of infant formula in state court price-fixing actions brought in seventeen states against infant formula manufacturers, which were settled collectively for $64 million in cash and infant formula products. Heins Mills & Olson currently serves as co-lead counsel for purchasers of laminated cabinetry in In re High Pressure Laminates Antitrust Litigation (S.D.N.Y.), and as a co-chair of plaintiffs' discovery committee in In re Vitamins Antitrust Litigation (D.D.C.). In addition, the firm was recently appointed co-lead counsel in In re Polyester Staple Antitrust Litigation (W.D.N.C.).

Heins Mills & Olson has represented consumers injured as a result of violations of various deceptive trade practices and consumer protection laws. The firm has brought claims on behalf of all types of consumers, including purchasers of prescription drugs, long distance telephone service, air compressors, smoke detectors, and hearing aids. As an advocate for consumer rights, the firm is one of three co-lead counsel in In re Universal Service Fund Telephone Billing Practices Litigation (D. Kan.), brought on behalf of business and residential customers concerning USF surcharges collected by long-distance telephone companies. The firm also is lead counsel in several statewide and national class actions brought on behalf of landowners against telecommunications companies that have laid fiber-optic cable in railroad rights of way without compensating the owners of the adjacent or underlying land. The firm also represents individual parties in other commercial cases, primarily in the areas of patent, trademark, unfair competition, and deceptive trade practices litigation.

Heins Mills & Olson comprises nineteen attorneys (seven partners and twelve associates) with a supporting staff of highly experienced paralegal assistants and administrative personnel.

He was awarded a Masters of Law with highest honors in 1985 from the National Law Center, Washington, D.C.

From 1987-2003, Mr. Woodward served as an Assistant Attorney General in the Civil Enforcement Unit of the Minnesota Attorney General's Office. Mr. Woodward has extensive experience representing the State of Minnesota in lawsuits enforcing statutory prohibitions against false advertising, deceptive trade practices and consumer fraud. Mr. Woodward's consumer protection litigation areas of emphasis included health frauds, mortgage related enforcement matters and deceptive practices particularly impacting vulnerable consumers. On behalf of the Minnesota Attorney General's Office, Mr. Woodward helped to create a multi-state health fraud litigation group, which he co-chaired from 1994-1996. He served as lead counsel on behalf of the State of Minnesota in numerous multi-state enforcement efforts involving the application of state consumer protection statutes to nationwide drug advertising and promotional practices within the pharmaceutical industry, as well as a multi-state settlement with a large food company involving application of federal and state food laws and state consumer laws to the advertising and sale of a combination food/toy product marketed to young children.

Mr. Woodward has extensive consumer protection litigation experience. He has represented the State of Minnesota in both state and federal courts. He represented the State of Minnesota in State v. American Family Mut. Ins. Co., 609 N.W.2d 1 (Minn. Ct. App. 2000), a consumer and insurance law enforcement matter benefiting homeowners statewide in a case confirming the Attorney General's authority to sue insurers to enforce Minnesota consumer and insurance laws. Mr. Woodward has represented the State in numerous false advertising, deceptive trade practices and consumer fraud cases, including litigation challenging advance fee loan schemes; college financial aid services companies; credit repair frauds; usurious credit card charges; home mortgage escrow overcharges; false advertising for bogus yellow page directories; the sale of bogus cancer treatment devices; the marketing to young consumers of an unapproved, dangerous drug misrepresented as a safe and natural product; misrepresentations in the sale of hearing aids; travel promotion schemes; deceptive practices affecting small businesses; and deceptive sweepstakes practices by major national sweepstakes companies.

From 1976-1979 and 1980-1987, Mr. Woodward served as a staff attorney for a non-profit legal services corporation providing legal representation in civil matters, including litigation, to low-income persons in south central Pennsylvania. He was counsel before the Pennsylvania Supreme Court in Pugh v. Holmes, 405 A.2d 897 (Pa. 1979), a seminal case which established on a statewide basis the implied warranty of habitability in residential lease transactions.

Mr. Woodward is admitted to practice before Minnesota, Pennsylvania and California state courts, United States District Court for the Districts of Minnesota and the Middle District of Pennsylvania, the United States Courts of Appeals for the Third, Fifth, Eighth and Ninth Circuits, and the United States Supreme Court. Mr. Woodward has provided pro bono representation to persons seeking asylum. In 2000, he received the Pro Bono Volunteer Annual Attorney Award from Minnesota Advocates for Human Rights.

Mr. Woodward works on antitrust, consumer fraud and securities fraud class litigation in which the Heins Mills & Olson firm serves as plaintiffs' counsel.
